THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON

62-20851

APR 3 1962

Dear John:

On May 1, 1962, the Treasury Department will inaugurate the Freedom Bond Drive -- the first full scale nation-wide Savings Bond campaign undertaken since the Korean War. The purpose of this campaign will be to encourage more American citizens to buy extra Savings Bonds, either by cash or through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Federal employees have traditionally taken the lead in the Payroll Savings Plan, and we are especially anxious to have the cooperation of all Federal Agencies in the forthcoming campaign. A creditable increase in Savings Bond purchases by Government personnel will provide a fine example for private industry throughout the country.

So that you may be personally apprised of our plans for the campaign, I have asked William H. Neal, National Director of our Savings Bonds Division, to call on you to discuss ways in which your Department can help us in this effort. He will telephone your office for an appointment, and I would personally appreciate your giving him a few minutes of your time at your earliest convenience.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

/S/ Douglas
